

Description

The “plastics and microplastics” workshop focuses on environmental education and explores recycling, the responsible use of resources and climate change.

Methodology

The programme includes practical and hands-on activities designed to actively engage students and help them understand key concepts through direct experience.

Objectives

- Raise awareness of global warming.
- Promote a more responsible use of natural resources.
- Encourage the adoption of sustainable behaviours.

